

To all PhD students and their supervisors

PhD Day 2018

Friday 26 January, all day followed by an evening party

Dear PhD students and supervisors

The annual PhD Day will be held on Friday 26 January 2018.

The theme of the day will be:

“Believe in science”

The PhD Day will include exciting talks from excellent speakers, poster/oral presentations, the Fogh Nielsen Prize competition, and the well-renowned evening dinner party. This year, the dinner will be held at Centralværkstedet, Aarhus C.

As the PhD Day is the annual meeting point for all PhD students, everyone is expected to participate:

- First year PhD students and research year students are invited to submit an abstract and present a poster.
- Second year PhD students are requested to submit an abstract and present a poster.
- Third year PhD students are requested to submit an abstract. Students will be selected for either oral presentation or to co-chair a poster or an oral session.

All supervisors are invited to participate in the PhD Day, and to contribute as chair for an oral or a poster session.

The deadline for submission of abstracts is 1 November 2017, and the online submission of abstracts will be open from 15 September 2017.

Attendance with submission of an abstract and presentations/acting as a co-chair will be awarded with 1 ECTS point.

The Organizing Committee is looking forward to seeing you all. We hope for your support to make this a very special event.

Sincerely

Helene Nørrelund,
Head of Graduate School

Karthiga Thavachelvam,
Chairman of the PhD Association
